AT THE COURT HOUSE

Much Interest Shown in the Returns of the Election.

The town turned out last night to fill the big district court room to overflowing, and while waiting for the returns to come in, the people were entertained by number after number of the Anadarko Concert Band. A profound secret, which the Democrat tells in confidence, is that our band is going to give a concert in the near future, and it has received a new assortment of music in the last two days. The people showed much interest and satisfaction in the music, and will show their appreciation in this concert-to-be.

The returns were very slow in coming in. But three boxes were heard from outside the city. Bridgeport, republican by 40; Connewango, an even break; and East McKinley, republican by a good vote. But the news from the state, received over R. Tomberlin's private wire, came in a steady stream, and afforded the people, democratic and republican alike, plenty of chances to cheer, too. A good report for Frantz would make the windows rattle, while a Haskell bulletin would wake up the erstwhile droopy ones in great shape. It is safe to say that if any such demonstrations should take place while Judge Gillette was holding court, there would be some very effective action taken right on the spur of the moment.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church served luncheon in the hall of the court house, and received some $18.00.

Statehood Bells.

(With apologies to Tennyson.) Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,

The creamy cloud, the autumn light;

Statehood is coming after night; Ring out, wild bells, for it is nigh.

Ring out the old, ring in the new; Ring, happy bells, across the dew,

The old is going, let it go; Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind, For troublous times are here no more;

Ring out the feud of rich and poor; Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause, And carpet-bagger's paltry strife;

Ring in the nobler modes of life, With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out the want, the care, the sin, The drunken foulness of the times;

Ring out, ring out the wine-glass chimes, And ring the crystal goblet in.

Ring in the valiant men, and free With larger heart and kindlier hand;

Ring out oppression from the land; Ring in, Statehood, we ring in thee.

Westward the star of empire takes its way. So one realizes, when he sees the constant train of mover's wagons making along the road which leads west from town to the new country.

A man started out with a camera this morning, saying that he was going to photograph a republican if he could catch one before all that clan had escaped from Oklahoma.

Lockart-Hess

At the Methodist Parsonage last night at 9 o'clock, in the presence of Miss Nina Chase and Mr. Earl McArron, Mr. Bert Lockart and Miss Grace Hess were united in marriage by Rev. Farrington. Mrs. Lockart is the daughter of S. Hess, who conducts a store in the north part of the city. Mr. Lockart is the pleasant and accommodating driver of the ice-wagon. They have gone to house-keeping on east Oklahoma Avenue, opposite the plaining mill.

The Democrat extends congratulations.

ANADARKO
REPUBLICAN

But the City Went Dry by Eight Votes

Basing the vote upon the Member of Congress both candidates living out of the city and getting a close party vote, Anadarko went Republican yesterday by 33. But the majority does not hold good along down the line, as our people are great scratchers, and Anadarko has a number of candidates in this race.

The figures follow in order of the vote by wards:

The vote that surprised the Democrat most of all was the majority in favor of State-wide prohibition. Yesterday noon, the Democrat gave this proposition up as a lost one, but it seems that there are eight more men in Anadarko opposed to license than the number in favor of it. The colored vote in the first ward went strongly for prohibition, resulting in the ward going prohibition by one vote.

The late indications shows the situation unchanged. Indian Territory divided and Oklahoma greatly in favor of the State-wide issue.

Today's Market.

(Tomberlin & Co., north side Broadway, Anadarko, O. T.)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—Cables were strong this morning causing our market to open some higher. Not much interest by local crowd who were generally hedged over the holiday. Northwest was fair bidder for December but did not seem to care for the May. With the exception of a limited number of outside orders the market was purely professional. Receipts for the two days were hardly as much as expected but the railroads have a large quantity tied up and if they should put it all in here in a bunch it would make the receipts look extremely large. The general situation is unchanged and a scalping market is indicated for next few days. Corn opened unchanged from Monday with considerable selling pressure early and no apparent desire on part of shorts to cover until Monday's low point was reached where some fair buying began and it gradually worked back to about the opening price. The shorts are scouring the country for corn to deliver on September contract but the longs appear indifferent and it looks like an attempt will be made to force the September option much higher before settlement is complete.

Dinner at the Bryan

Sunday's dinner at the Bryan gotten up by Mrs. L. W. Rothwell, the new management, was one of the best ever served at that noted hostelry. It will be remembered by all who had the pleasure of partaking the same.

MENU

Celery of Soup
Roast Beef Celery Roast Pork
Baked Duck with Dressing
Pickles Potatoes Peas
Salads Pie Fruits
Ice Cream Cake

Several private parties were entertained, and the aim of the management to give dinners of this character in the future.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with ferns and drawn work, and was under the entire supervision of Mrs. Rothwell.
